SERVICE AREA

High Speed Internet for Rural Areas

airCloud Communications offers rural communities an alternative to Dialup, Satellite, or expensive T1 lines.

SERVICE DESCRIPTION

airCloud Communications has installed a dedicated high-capacity wireless connection to service Marsh Creek Springs. Each resident will be connected via a special all-weather outdoor wireless modem. Our modems are configured to ensure fair access for all users.

SERVICE FEATURES

airCloud service is an always-on Internet connection capable of supporting gaming, video, music, VPN, Remote Desktop Connection, VoIP, or anything else you want to do. airCloud is not limited by the extreme distances of Satellite Internet, old telephone lines, or weak Cellular signals.

LOCAL SUPPORT

airCloud Communications' highly trained US based support team provides prompt, courteous, and competent help. With a one-tier escalation path your problems are quickly resolved.

FULLY MONITORED

airCloud Communications monitors all network links 24x7x365 ensuring maximum uptime, and the best connection performance possible.

END TO END CONTROL

airCloud Communications owns and operates our entire network from end-to-end. We do not depend on third parties for installation or repair.

PROVEN NETWORK

airCloud Communications' network is built using best-in-class equipment from Cisco and Motorola. Redundant network feeds, as well as continuous performance testing ensure maximum possible uptime, lowest latency, and consistent performance.
